Dr. Talmage's First Sermon.

Albany Argus.

"A good wife," says the good book, "is from the Lord." Dr. Talmage, when a student at Rutgers, was, according to his classmates, the Rev. John McU. Holmes, D. D., of Albany, given that text for a trial sermon. Dr. Holmes is very successful in producing the Talmage "analysis" of that sermon. (1) "A good wife," that is "one good wife"—at a time is a good thing. More than one, at a time, is sinful as well as superfluous. Illustration: The miseries of Brigham Young. (2) She must obviously be your own wife. Another man's wife is to be avoided. Illustration: Any divorce suit going. (3) "A good wife is from the Lord," "therefore, a bad wife is from the devil." Moral: "Love the Lord and hate the devil." Conclusion: "Depict the diabolic traits of a bad wife, but do not bear down too heavy on the devil, lest he have a chance to afflict you with one of his wives."

Slaven's Effervescent California Fruit Salt.

Is prepared from sound, ripe fruit, by an experienced analytical chemist, who has spent years in experimenting on its preparation. It is manufactured by a special process known only to the proprietor. This preparation is a safe, simple and effective medicine for regulating the action of the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is most particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Headache, Heartburn, Acidity of the Stomach, Habitual Constipation, Nausea, Sea Sickness, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Over-indulgence either in eating or drinking, etc. As a purifier of the blood in all Scrofulous Diseases, it has no equal. It removes all eruptions from the skin and has a cooling and invigorating effect on the system. The "FRUIT SALT" is entirely different from any of the effervescent Salts or Sedative preparations in the market, being manufactured from Fruit. For sale by ap28-ly Osburn & Soemmaker.

Is It Possible

That a remedy of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, etc., makes so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hub Punch? It must be for when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by it. It is a fact and doubt no longer. See other column.

Lynn editors occasionally go three miles out to sea to get sufficient room to expand their hatred for each other. —Boston Post.

Rescued From Death

Willam J. Connelley, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will take DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAAM, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving so etc., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Hall's cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup, and whooping cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For lame back, side, or chest, use Hall's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists, Reno, Nevada. nov8-eod-d&w

THE DANGEROUS DOCTRINE.

The card of Mrs. August Meyer appears in another column. She is a spiritual medium, and is apparently a sincere and honest lady. It is contrary to our principles to advise anyone to attend a spiritual seance so we simply mention the advertisement. We believe spiritualism is a curse to the human race instead of a blessing. We have seen so much trouble from it that we earnestly advise the young people to avoid it as they would the opium pipe. We have read that sixteen per cent. of the inmates of our asylums were driven mad by spiritualism. We have seen rich legacies swept away by the infatuated owners allowing the so-called spirits to run their business. We have seen widows who consulted their dead husbands about investments in property lose their all. People who are so unfortunate as to lose friends should exercise philosophy. They should control their grief by the force of will power, as far as possible, instead of giving way to the morbid broodings that disease the mind. There are worse things than death, and when our loved ones enter the normal condition—the one which is to last through all eternity—we should accept the inevitable as quickly as our natural griefs can be overcome. Time heals all wounds, and the tender memories that sweeten the years are often far preferable to the bitter experiences that might have otherwise been. Sensible people must be convinced by a moment's thought that the trifling manifestations that even the best mediums obtain are unworthy the attention of an intelligent soul, either in the body or out. If the other world affords no better occupation than tipping tables, tying ropes and drumming guitars, if there are no better or more intelligent associates than the people usually chosen as mediums, then we are not anxious for a future state—we would rather prefer oblivion.

JENNIE CRAMER'S DEATH.

New York papers for some weeks have had daily reports of an investigation into the cause of the death of handsome Jennie Cramer at New Haven. She was last seen with a young man named Malley, and her body was found in shallow water next morning. The Chicago Tribune thus points a moral: Plain talk about Jennie Cramer and her friends would be best. She never was a "belle." The idea is preposterous. Belles do not get full of liquor and mount "flying horses" when in motion, or repose their heads on the shoulders of drunken strangers in public places. As a rule, belles do not indulge in private wine suppers at midnight with male companions, or stay out all night without the consent of their parents, or go to dances where beer is sold and stand up the bar for a "treat." Jennie Cramer was a silly girl whose head had been turned by flattery. Her parents were better and more culpable than she was. They should have kept some sort of watch over her. There must have been shocking negligence on their part before she could have dreamed of such a thing as staying from home all night, an offense of which she had been repeatedly guilty before her death. Plain talk will be the best for the Malleys, too. They are not "gentlemen," and never were. Gentlemen do not form conspiracies to seduce innocent girls, or invite barlets to their own homes, or involve themselves in a mass of perjuries and lies. There is nothing about the Cramer case, except mystery, to give it the least importance. The poor victim, if she had lived, had no honorable future before her. If the Malleys killed her, they will be punished for it as they deserve; if she took her own life, she alone must be held to answer for it.

There is some talk in San Francisco of changing the name of the S. F. Daily Exchange to the S. F. Saint Exchange, devoted to practical plagiarism and bandy literature. There is propriety in all things.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Apropos of the proposed Quincy and Reno road, we find that two-foot narrow gauge railroads are successfully operated in Europe and Colorado. It has been demonstrated that they are specially adapted to mountainous regions. It is the only method by which these districts can be supplied with railroad communication. With railroad facilities of this character Plumas county will enter upon a new era. In early days it was one of the most prosperous counties in California. With a railroad for transporting their lumber and for carrying material and supplies for mining purposes, without one hundred miles of teaming over rough mountain roads, Plumas county will become one of the best places on the Pacific Coast for the investment of capital.

Louis McLane has retired as President of the Nevada Bank, and has been succeeded by James C. Flood, of the bonanza firm. The administration of Mr. McLane was unpopular because of its illiberality. Under the new management the bank has reduced its rates of interest from nine to seven per cent, and loans fifty per cent on the market price of mining stock.

In saying a good word for the President's physicians the Providence Press makes the point that "the physicians who attended George Washington in his last illness have from time to time been bitterly assailed, but the people long ago came to the conclusion that they did the best they could and that they were not deserving of censure."

Senator James G. Fair personally pays taxes on $15,150 worth of property in Storey county this year. Of that sum $2,500 is in personal property and the remainder is in real estate and improvements. The names of John W. Mackay, Hon. John P. Jones and Hon. William Sharon do not appear on the assessment roll.

O'NEIL—RUSSELL—In Reno, September 8, John O'Neil of Bodie to Miss Russell.

PERSONAL.

T. S. Merchant, San Francisco, is at the Depot.

C. A. Loomis has gone below after goods for the ladies.

L. Abrahams will go to San Francisco on September 18th.

D. B. Lyman and Frank Bishop, Virginia, were in town last evening.

E. T. Hale has been in San Francisco learning the business of assaying.

Owen Frazier and family of Gold Hill arrived in Reno to-day to make a home here.

Hon. John P. Foulkes, the prominent citizen of Essex, promenaded the boulevards to-day.

Lieutenant Governor J. W. Adams was a passenger on last evening's train for San Francisco.

Shoemaker Squires.

Many years ago there lived in Gibsons ville, Plumas county, three brothers. They owned a mine, but could not get to the pay gravel. Two of the brothers emigrated, one to Verdi, the other to Virginia City, while the third remained in Gibsons ville, worked for wages and put all his earnings in the mine. For five long years this went on without any return. Finally the stubborn earth was forced to yield up its treasures, and the faithful miner finds his hopes realized.

"Come home immediately," he writes to the two wanderers; "I have enough here for all of us."

The mine has yielded $30,000 since April, and there is one shoemaker shop in Verdi and Virginia to let.

Time-Temperature.

Nasby has a full line of clocks which came directly from the east. The thermometer at 9, 11, 1 and 3, was as follows: 78, 81, 85, 83.

LETTER FROM TAHOE.

TRAVEL FOR THE SUMMER SEASON STOPPED—ITEMS ABOUT THE LAKE.

Echoes From the Tourist Season, and Notes of the Lake's Attractions.

Editor Gazette:—Tourist travel for the season at the lake has come to a stand-still. The Grand Central Hotel and the Tahoe House at Tahoe City are empty, with the exception of a few stragglers who occasionally drop in. The Tallac House, formerly known as "Yanks," the property of E. J. Baldwin, is also empty. The Lake Shore House, at Glenbrook, is still doing a good business with the mill and lumber men in that vicinity, and I probably will continue to do so for a month or six weeks to come. The other houses about the lake are all closed, with the exception of Rowland's, which will probably remain open all winter, for the accommodation of the fishermen in that vicinity. The Hot Springs Hotel, at one time one of the most popular resorts on the shores of Lake Tahoe, has not been open during the season, owing to the fact that the law has had its clutches on the property. It will probably be open next year, under the management of Sisson, Wallace & Co., which insures the traveling public one more place of interest to visit while making the tour of the lake. The most popular resorts on the lake the past season have been the Grand Central, at Tahoe City, and the Tallac House, the former probably taking the lead owing to its fine fishing grounds and the number of boats there for the accommodation of guests. The Minnie Moody, the largest and best fitted sail boat on the lake, has made its headquarters at Tahoe City this season, and any day during the past two months its white sails could be seen at different parts of the lake, with pleasure and fishing parties aboard. Next season Captain James Powell, master of this boat, expects to put a fast sailer on the lake, and in connection with Frank Holt and others, is engaged in the construction of a wharf 400 feet in length, which extends into the lake just back of Campbell's, opposite the Big Bonanza saloon. The steamer Gov. Stanford was last spring overhauled and thoroughly refitted, and the past season, with Lloyd Hawthorne as business manager and Joe Pomin as Captain, has been the only passenger and excursion boat on the lake. The Niagara, heretofore a passenger and U. S. mail boat, has been fitted up as a tug, and the past year has been towing barges from the different wood and logging camps to the mills at Glenbrook. The fast iron boat the Meteor, property of D. L. Bliss, is also engaged in the same business, while the Truckee, at one time the strongest tug boat on the lake, lies at its breakwater, condemned by the boiler and hull inspectors. The Transit, owned by John McKinney, has had its own way among the sail boats this year, without a rival as to fast sailing and trim rigging. The Fleeter having been hauled on the shore of Emerald Bay for repairs.

The narrow gauge railroad at Glenbrook has been the means of conveying 60,000 cords of wood to the summit of the mountains on the east of Tahoe, from whence it is flumed to Carson, and before the close of the summer's work will land 20,000 additional cords at the top of the mountains. The lumber run will be about 15,000,000 feet. At Crystal Bay the timber is fast disappearing. The Sierra Wood and Lumber Co., Capt. J. B. Overton, Superintendent, have control of this property, and by means of an incline railroad, with double track and endless wire cable, expect to hoist 40,000 cords of wood to a point 1,000 feet above the level of the lake and flume it from thence to Lakeview on the V. & T. R. R. In one place the flume runs through a tunnel 4,000 feet in length. Marlette & Folsom have the contract of cutting the 40,000 cords of wood, and at this date have about 30,000 cords piled along side of the track and in the woods.

The season has, on the whole, been a very profitable one for hotel keepers, boatmen, fishermen, etc. But very few stock men have had their stock ranging close to the lake this year, notwithstanding the fact that the feed was excellent. At Idlewild several cottages have been erected this year, one very pretty one by Mr. Birdsell of Sacramento. Mr. McConell, who owns the property in that section, is also constructing a neat summer residence. Idlewild is one of the prettiest places on the lake and has been visited this season by large numbers of San Francisco and Sacramento people. The telegraphic line between Truckee and Tahoe has been closed until next year, and the operator, Joseph Blakely, returned to his home in Virginia. A. J. Bayley, proprietor of the Grand Central, reports his business as profitable this year and will of course be on hand to open next season. The Grand Central and Tallac houses are still open, but do not expect much business from this date until they close for the season. M.

OUTLET AND SOURCE.

The Violent Rise and Peaceful End of the Truckee River.

The Truckee river must always be an object of interest to everyone who sees it. From its very beginning, far above the rocky banks of Tahoe, where it falls in snow flakes upon the rocky summits of the Sierra, as it trickles down among the trees in a thousand tiny rills to its fountain head in the beautiful mountain lake, as it tears its way among the rocks for nearly a hundred miles, and, as it at last sinks into Pyramid to be again absorbed in the thin and spongy air, from which it originally came, it is a striking and beautiful object. Probably a thousand people have seen the upper end of the river for every one that has visited its mouth at the head of Pyramid lake. Water could hardly be put into more contrasting shapes than it as it tumbles out of Tahoe, and when it sinks with a grand and peaceful sweep into Pyramid. At its upper end it is harnessed in to serve the lumber manufacture, with a narrow gate opening in the center of a strong dam that could easily choke it off entirely if closed. For the first fifty miles the fall is nearly sixty feet to the mile, but below that it decreases, and as its channel gradually assumes a horizontal, its current loses its swiftness, its banks widen, its volume increases and its rocky bed is hidden beneath a calm and untroubled surface. For several miles above its mouth a grove of cottonwood trees line its banks, and in the last mile or two heavy clumps of willows afford

THE INDIANS FAVORITE SHADE, While fishing. The river empties into a handsome bay on the eastern side. A wide flat runs back a half a mile or so on both banks to a range of sand-hills, still back of which rise the bluffs. The flat is undoubtedly the growth of long ages of time. The rings of fresh debris along the shore show that the lake is rapidly falling. Great beds of saw dust, acres in extent, lie several feet above the present water line, and others out in the lake just touch the surface of the water. Several whole trees lie bedded in the sand where they were carried by floods from the forests above, where they once reigned as monarchs. They have lain bleaching in the sun so long that every vestige of bark has disappeared, and their shining trunks and dry branches look as though they were petrified. Quite a delta is working its way out into the lake through which the river discharges. A beautiful stretch of meadow land runs back, and a few scattering trees add to the beauty of the scene.

More Blackleg. William Shirk, just in from Stein Mountain, informs the Silver State that cattle are dying in that vicinity of blackleg or some other disease. Calves and yearlings seem to be more subject to the disease than grown cattle, though several of the latter have died on the ranges. A friend informs the GAZETTE of another remedy in addition to those already published. Cut the skin below the shoulder and form a small cavity between the skin and the flesh. Fill this with salt and close up the aperture. This remedy is said to have proven very effective in many cases.

A Place Worth Seeing. I. Fredericks has never been better satisfied with Reno than now. He is doing a steady business and getting a fair share of profit. His goods are always tastefully displayed and his store is worth visiting, whether you want to buy anything or not. If the low prices for the elegant goods should cause you to draw on your purse you will never regret it.

Railroad Buildings. The cattle corrals east of town have been moved down on the ridge this side of the slaughter house and rebuilt. At the place of their former location the C. P. round house and machine shop is now being built. The frame is already up.

The N. & O. R. R. will soon have their round house and shops completed. A large force of carpenters is now engaged upon the work.

What Can It Be?

A Garrard came up from Mason valley the other day, and informs the Aurora Herald that at the junction of the East and West Walker, in Mason valley, cattle are dying off from the supposed effects of a poison weed. Hogs feeding off the carcasses do not live more than five minutes, and the meat will not stay on a dog's stomach more than one minute.

Burglars.

Henry Johnson, the colored thief, who burglarized Charley Becker's saloon, to day plead guilty and was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary. He will be taken to Carson in the morning.

Frank Whitney held under the same charge will be tried on Thursday.

State Fair Handicap.

Weights announced for free Handicap, race No. 3, dash of one and one-eighth miles, Maria F. to carry 75 pounds, Duke of Norfolk to carry 100, Jennie B. to carry 110. Matt Allen of San Francisco, Handicapper.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Municipal Election. [Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.

There was much scratching at the polls yesterday. The result is still uncertain. On 14,000 votes the Republicans only had an average of 250 majority.

Later Election Returns. Special to the Gazette.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.

Complete returns from twenty-five precincts at eleven A. M. give the following results: Blake, 3,140; Howe, 2,213; Sedgwick, 3,219; Desmond, 2,111; Brickwedel, 3,150; Dunn, 2,188. The Republicans claim the entire ticket.

JOTTINGS.

Crown Point is assessed seventy-five cents.

The wind has revived the fire in the mountains.

Redpath's histories 90 cents each at Nasby's Bazaar.

Be sure to get Allen's catalogue of sheet music.

LaRoche & Sooy left for Butte City, Montana, this morning.

All school books at Allen's will be sold hereafter at reduced rates.

E. A. Allen offers a fine assortment of bird cages wonderfully cheap.

There will be no session of the Stock Boards to-morrow. Admission day.

Dr. Wagar has two elegant rooms to let; corner Lake and Fifth streets. See advertisement.

J. J. Alexander, the milkman, was complained of yesterday for running water in the road.

Pat Halpin thinks he is as good a painter and kalsominer as anybody. The GAZETTE thinks so too.

Prof. Stimson advertises as teacher of the piano and voice culture, piano-tuner, etc. He is thorough master of his profession.

"Is that a quail or a mountain bed bug," said the saloon keeper to a wood contractor, who had a large bug on his shoulder.

Lulu Riggs arrived safe and sound this afternoon. She is at present at Hymers & Comstocks. There are 18 horses at the track.

Railroad rumors are thick. The Peoples' Cause says the C. P. R. R. will build from Anderson, Shasta county, via Big valley, to connect with the N. & O. R. R.

There will be a slaughter at the Mechanics' store for the next two weeks. Mr. Peyser is going below soon to buy goods, and he doesn't want to mix old and new.

J. J. Becker has the finest brands of bottled and keg beer on the Pacific Coast. He sells two bottles of the celebrated Sacramento or Chicago beer for fifty cents. His home-made current wine is delicious, and only fifty cents per bottle. Call and see him.

It is wrong to flatter, and in bad taste to boast; but anyone who will compare the WEEKLY GAZETTE issued from this office to-day, with any other Nevada paper, can be his own judge.

It is a neatly-printed double paper of eight pages, clean, fine paper, sharply-cut type, and good shape to handle.

New Class in Penmanship.

Prof. Butts is now engaged in qualifying a class of young ladies to teach penmanship. For $50 the Professor will qualify any person to equal him in this beautiful art. Many of his former pupils are now teaching penmanship in California on salaries of $100 per month and upwards. Mrs. Nella Ackley already equals the Professor. She will commence teaching next week, and Mr. Butts warrants her one hundred dollars per month, which he says is easier and more profitable than doing nothing. At present Mr. Butts gives lessons in the day time and evening at the old school house.

Ancient Inscriptions.

Eugene Blasdel and Ben Dunning recently discovered a historical rock about five miles from Spanish Springs. The rock set in a deep ravine and has probably not been seen before for many years. It is fifteen feet high and ten feet wide. The entire face of the rock is covered with over one hundred characters which the discoverers could not decipher. There is one character which represents a hand rake, and on another place there are four links joined. The rock will be closely examined soon, and a copy of the inscription forwarded to the scientists.

Testing the Sun's Heat.

A remarkable instrument, invented by the distinguished California astronomer, Professor Langley, and called the bolometer, is about to be employed in the course of some experiments to determine the amount of the sun's heat. The summit of Mount Whitney has been selected as the most favorable spot for making these experiments, and a party of twelve persons, under the lead of the Professor, are now en route for that point from San Francisco. The extraordinary quality of the bolometer is its extreme sensitiveness to solar heat, and an idea of its delicacy may be formed from the statement that the Professor expects by means of it to determine the radiant energy of each separate ray in the spectrum of the sun.
